

CRAFTSMANSHIP & INSTINCT

OLIVIER POLGE

HIS WORDS

Few ingredients, a certain instinct and just as much discipline: he makes perfume with a minimal of sophistication and juggles with paradox. A somewhat abstract approach that could almost be qualified as craftsmanship. Olivier is totally aware of the apparent contradiction.

Neither bucolic nor figurative, perfume still remains for Olivier something that is primarily created in the mind more than anything else. "I can't imagine it as a continuation of nature but more of a sophisticated version".
