

CHRISTINE NAGEL

Christine Nagel is a charming mix of Science, Swiss preciseness and Italian radiant generosity.

She studied Chemistry and started to work in the chromatography department of a research laboratory. She then became a great Perfumer driven by the love of beautiful natural and synthetic raw materials, and the endless will to discover new ingredients and smells.

Christine herself and her creations received many prestigious awards through the years:

Perfumer of the Year / Cosmétique Mag in 2009

Prix International du Parfum / Prix François Coty in 2007

Fifi Award for Ambre Soie / Armani Privé in 2006

Fifi Award for Narciso Rodriguez for Her in 2004

She joined Mane in 2010 as Vice President Fine Fragrance Creation with three missions: the creative direction of the Mane Fine Fragrance Perfumers' team, the discovery and selection of young talents for the Mane school of Perfumery and the participation to the Mane Scientific Committee for Fine Fragrance in charge of the development of new molecules and ingredients, synthetic and natural.

Optimistic and enthusiast, Christine is guided by her emotions and inspired by people.

Creating fragrances is the best way to express herself.

She loves to take a material, triturate it, knead it until she succeeds to tame it...
Change the state of the material, twist it in an unexpected new way!

Her favourite flower is the "Pierre de Ronsard" Rose.
